IN MEXICO

The United States Army had to invade Mexico again. Over 3,000 troops stationed on the Mexican border were ordered across the river at El Paso on Sunday in order to prevent the Caranza and Villa forces from extending their battle lines practically into the United States. We appear to have been carrying out the policy of "watchful waiting" with Mexico, and in the mean time the rival forces of that country are still keeping it in a turmoil. Villa, when Pershing was ordered to capture dead or alive is still in action and from present reports proposes to continue so indefinitely.

Mexico is a problem. Its political situation is unsettled, and its people are suffering because of it. Friction between factions has been continual and there appears to be no settlement in sight. It is said that a recent shipment of arms which the United States allowed to be sent to Carranza forces was only admitted because Villa told the Carranza commander there would have to be a "divvy" or a fight, and as a consequence the Villa forces received about as much of the supply as the Carranza army. Villa is evidently in charge of a force well organized and well equipped, and it is this force which is making an attempt to capture Jurez. However much the contending factions may fight, United States Army officers on the border insist that they confine the fighting to Mexico, otherwise there will be a real "scrap," in which Uncle Sam will have to take a hand.

THE AIR FLIGHT

The feat of Capt. Alcock and Lieut. Brown in accomplishing an air flight from America to Europe demonstrates the availability of the air plane to make long journeys. A distance of almost two thousand miles, over a trackless seas, under discouraging circumstances, was the feat accomplished by the plane in which these two intrepid navigators were the guiding spirits. The ocean was crossed by a plane a couple of weeks ago, but it was not a non-stop flight. The United States Naval officers did reach a distance of over 1,300 miles, showing that long distances were possible with a heavier-than-air machine.

No doubt other birdmen will accomplish the journey to Europe, and there is a possibility of the time being reduced, for the mark set by Alcock and Brown will be a target for other daring navigators.

Just as the steamship supplanted the sailing vessels, so the air plane or the air-boat is going to cut a wonderful figure in the transportation affairs of the world. We are only witnessing the initial performances of what such machines can do—even greater things are yet to be accomplished by the airplane. The air has been conquered and the future will show the adaptability of his craft not only for sport, but for utility as well.

JUDGE MAKES ERRONEOUS PREDICTION REGARDING LAWYER

"About one clean shirt is all I thought he would ever wear. He had fallen away to a mere shadow, was as yellow as saffron and often doubled up with pain. Doctors continually gave him morphine and were about to operate for gall stones. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy quickly restored him to perfect health again." It is a simple, harmless preparation preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

WOMEN AT WORK

During the war, millions of women have been at work in vocations into which they have never before been called—in Munition Factories, Chemical Works, Metal Works, Street Railways, and as Ambulance Drivers, Barbers, and Elevator Girls. Undoubtedly thousands of others have longed to serve in this way but because of female ailments, which had fastened upon them, were not able to do so. Women in this condition should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and find health and strength, as thousands of others have so done.

According to a Boston doctor the way to become a centenarian is to stop bathing. This recalls the answer of Edward VII when told that if he stopped smoking he would live a year of two longer. "It isn't worth it," said the British monarch.

The 300,000 Maxwells All Tell the Same Story

MAXWELL first caught on in those sections of America where grades are long and severe, where roads are none too good, where distances are great, and where few cars before had made good.

Today if you could visit those places, those zones—some of them hundreds and hundreds of miles in area—you would see the Maxwell the prevailing car there.

These "Maxwell areas," so to speak, have since spread into nation-wide—even world-wide areas—for like all things good, news travels fast.

Today there's no spot of consequence where Maxwell cannot be found in ever-increasing numbers.

Because Maxwell expresses to a marked degree that one quality that every one seeks in a motor car—everlasting reliability.

This dominating trait of the Maxwell was built to be its dominating trait.

Instead of a brand new model every year with frequent, expensive changes in design (changes costly to the purchaser) a very simple Maxwell was designed five years ago.

And since that time no radical changes have been made, no new models built, but instead a constant, almost daily improving process has gone on until today the 300,000th Maxwell tells the same story as No. 1.

It's a better car, to be sure, more refined, better looking—even more reliable, but it would not be half the car it is today were it merely a 1919 model with but one year behind it.

Concerning Toll Service

Under the schedules of toll and long distance telephone rates now applying to messages originating and terminating within Pennsylvania several classes of service are offered. These classes of service are the same as those which, since January 21, 1919, have been available for messages from points in Pennsylvania to points in other states. The following explanation of the various classes of toll service will aid telephone users in determining the class of service best fitted for their needs and will explain the methods of making the several kinds of calls.

The "station to station" rate is the base rate upon which all rates for the various classes of service offered, are computed. This rate is determined by the air line distance between toll points and is computed, for the initial period, on the basis of 5c for each 6 miles up to 24 miles and 5c for each 8 miles beyond that distance.

For toll calls where the calling party does not specify a particular person to be reached at the called telephone, "station to station" rates are charged.

For toll calls where the calling party does specify a particular person to be reached at the called telephone and the connection is established and conversation held with that person, "person to person" rates are charged. As this service requires a greater amount of operating effort, the rate for such calls is about one-fourth greater than the "station to station" rate. The minimum "person to person" rate is 20c.

Toll calls involving an appointment to talk at a specified time, or involving the use of messenger service to secure attendance of a designated person at a public telephone at a distant point may be made at rates usually about one-half greater than the "station to station" rate, plus the cost of messenger service. The minimum rate for such calls is 25c.

For all toll calls other than those made on the "station to station" basis, where connection is established but the conversation is not held because the calling or called party is not present or will not talk, a "report charge" is made, equivalent to about one-fourth of the "station to station" rate. The minimum "report charge" is 10c; maximum $2. No Report Charge is made if the call is completed before midnight of the day it is placed.

Night rates, applying only to calls made on a "station to station" basis are quoted between 8:30 P. M. and 4:30 A. M. The rate between 8:30 P. M. and 12 midnight is about one-half the "station to station" day rate, and between 12 midnight and 4:30 A. M. about one-fourth the "station to station" day rate. The minimum night rate is 25c.

"Station to station" calls must be made as far as possible by giving the telephone number of the called telephone. When the number is not known and telephone directory information is not available the number should be obtained from "Information," or if the called telephone is at a distant point, the name and address of the called subscriber should be given to the Toll Operator, stating that it is a "station to station" call.

The "station to station" rates are substantially lower than the "person to person" rates. In order that patrons may effect the greatest economy in their charges for toll service, and also maximum speed of connections, they are urged to study their toll service requirements and to make the widest possible use of "station to station" calls.

THE PROMISED LAND

Like the children of Israel, after forty years of wandering in the wilderness of political discrimination the women who want the right to vote in all elections and the right to vote in all elections and the right to vote in all elections have at last reached the promised land. The adoption by the Senate of the Susan B. Anthony amendment is indeed a notable victory for the women who have so long been fighting for suffrage, but its practical operation is still a matter of conjecture. Most persons not particularly enthusiastic either way are perfectly willing the experiment should be tried. The political effect of equal is apparently of greater interest to candidates and party managers than the social effects. Judging from the result of the last Senatorial election in Massachusetts candidates for office "must watch out for women" when they go on the political trail. Certainly the millions of women who will have the franchise in all elections, if the necessary number of States ratify the amendment, will cut a very large figure in the game of politics. There is little reason to doubt that the amendment will be ratified by the requisite number of States. The principal opposition to it has come from Southerners, this being of fear, real or fancied, of trouble resulting from the enfranchisement of colored women and anxiety over the probability that the next step after equal suffrage by federal amendment will be the enactment of federal election laws. Analysis of the vote in the House and Senate shows, however, division among delegations from the Southern states, and the probability is that enough of these will vote for ratification to make the victory complete.

THE CAUSE OF IT

There has been much discussion as to what really was the cause which brought about the German demand for the armistice, which was signed on November 11th, 1918. Field Marshal von Hindenburg, in a recent letter, however, seems to set all doubt at rest as to how the war was brought to a close. He discloses that on September 29th, 1918, forty-three days before the signing of the armistice, he requested the Chancellor, Prince Max of Baden, to make an immediate peace offer. The reason for this request, as von Hindenburg shows, was the military defeat of Germany. The Macedonian front had collapsed and there were no more reserves to sustain the Western front. He gives no hint of troubles at home or of any collapse in the morale of the army. The toll of casualties during the last weeks of the fighting shows that the German armies were hopelessly defeated, as their leaders frankly admitted in confidential documents. The propaganda directed against the morale of the German people doubtless had its effect, but the main glory of bringing about the defeat of Germany is due to Marshal Foch and the allied armies.

While excusing typographical errors in hurried newspaper print, the New York Evening Post complains of needless carelessness in the making of books "fairly prickly with errors" now issued by "the oldest, richest, and formerly most careful" publishing houses. The Evening Post asks "we are all growing careless of accuracy nowadays" and "every day of good proofreading as an 'inconspicuous art'." Possibly the explanation is that the good proofreaders have gone into better paying war work and are now desirous to return to the old desk "looking about for other more remunerative employment."

Speaker Frederick Gillett publicly expressed the opinion that Mexico ought to quit raising hell and go to raising food; quit playing politics all the time and go to work. This has caused quite a storm. What a sensation it creates when a man in public life tells the real truth.

HAPPINESS.

Happiness is a by-product.
We cannot buy it because it is not price.
Some people try to purchase happiness by getting other people around fine houses and some travel around the world.
But the goal is as simple as the sun.
The main issue of life is service.
Happiness is incidental to service.

To try to win happiness from the world without serving the world is like trying to win love from a woman without loving her. It will be done.
The contractor who erects an honest substantial building wins approval.
The statesman who forwards the cause of humanity wins happiness.
The judge who reads the law in the light of common sense wins happiness.
The man who draws white-hot steel in the mill wins happiness.
The law of happiness is as inexorable as the law of gravitation.
Without service there should be no happiness, says Nature.
And it's a good law, too.

Booth Tarkington's "The Magnificent Ambersons," has been awarded the distinction of the "best novel of the year" by the critics of Columbia University's School of Journalism. Though Booth Tarkington's many admirers will not complain of this, critics aplenty will fail to agree. Above a certain level of excellence the choice in literature is largely a matter of taste.

In spite of the lamentations over the peace treaty Berlin is busily advertising itself to tourists as the place to find "bright and gayety" and as an attractive European capital "which has been quite untouched and has suffered little from the accidents of war." In other words, the Berliners are better off than they pretend to be and are ready to give a good time to tourists with money to spend.

During the brief period of government operation of telegraphs a deficit of a million dollars was created. The results of political control of industry are three: First, increased rates; second, inferior service; third, deficits to be paid by the people for the grand privilege of paying more and getting less than under private management.

The International Kindergarten Union decided at its Baltimore meeting against a suggested substitute for the distinguishing German word of its title. There is no getting away and no need of getting away from the fact that the kindergarten method was made in Germany as well as its author Froebel.

Every mint in the United States is rapidly turning out copper cents and the new output is said to amount to about ninety millions a month. The explanation is to be found in the war taxes adding an odd cent or two to the regular price of innumerable small commodities.

Election Expenses.

This story of the election expenses of a Georgia man who was defeated for county commissioner reaches us by way of the Newark Leader in a dispatch from Atlanta. His sworn statement runs: "Lost 1,294 hours of sleep thinking about the election. Lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four sheeps and five sheep to a county barbecue. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four cat's dresses, $25 cash and 13 baby rattles. Kissed 126 babies. Killed 14 chicken fops. Put up four crows. Walked 4,076 miles. Shook hands with 4,505 persons. Told 10,000 lies, and talked enough to make, in print, 1,000 volumes. Attended 16 revival meetings, and was baptized four different times by immersion, and twice from other ways. Contributed $24 to foreign missions, and made love to 214 great women. Fugged 23 old maids. Got dach-bit 39 times, and was defeated."

An Error of the Mind.
The Vedanta religion of India has as the basis of its belief the doctrine that matter does not exist. A Vedanta teacher, says Stanford Cobb in his book, "The Essential Mysticism," was once instructing his pupils in the midst of a jungle. There suddenly crashed through the bushes a mad elephant—the most dangerous of tropic beasts. The pupils, disregarding their philosopher, took to the trees. When the animal had passed they found their guru descending unabashed from a stout upas tree. "Why," asked one heretical youth, "did you climb a tree, if, according to your teaching, matter has no existence?" To this smart inquiry, worthy to adorn the impudent ranks of American youths, he answered calmly: "There was no elephant. There was no tree. I did not climb up a tree."

McKEES ROCK'S MAN HAD BEEN SUFFERER

W. Price, Well Known Painter and Decorator, was Relieved By Ten-Herbs

No new article of the times has created such profound interest, especially in the larger cities, as has the introduction of Ten-Herbs, the famous stomach remedy. People in all walks of life have been attracted to it; the statesman, the professional man, mechanic, financier, brakeman, society woman, waitress—they all have tested it and permitted the use of their names in telling of it.
Every day people are coming forward with unsolicited statements as to the great benefit they have received from the use of Ten-Herbs. Recently the following testimonial was given by Mr. W. Price, one of the best known painters and decorators in McKees Rocks, who resides at No. 300 Chartiers avenue and has a wide acquaintance in that city. He said:

"For several years past I have been troubled with my stomach; I was bloated with gas, could not digest my food and my limbs were stiff and sore; my liver was sluggish and I felt drowsy and sleepy during the day, but could not sleep at night. I was very nervous and felt completely run down. I was told I had catarrh of the stomach and needed something to build me up. I had tried a number of different medicines but never got anything to relieve me until I began to take your Ten-Herbs. Now I am improved in every way; I sleep well and have a fine appetite. I am glad to endorse Ten-Herbs."

Ten-Herbs cleanses, strengthens and revitalizes the whole system. It clears the blood of poisons and impurities, puts the lazy liver to work, regulates the bowels, tones up the digestive organs and strengthens the kidneys.
Ten-Herbs is sold in Charleroi at Henning's Drug Store.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO FAMILY FRIEND

Harry Pearson, 451 Bodine St., Pottsville, Pa., paid a high tribute to the agency through which he and Mrs. Pearson obtained relief. "I suffered from stomach trouble," he says, "and rheumatism. I had all the symptoms of indigestion and gastritis, and the rheumatic pains were awful. I heard about Tanlac and bought some. Tanlac gave me relief quickly. I was soon able to eat everything, almost, and could sleep long and well. It has relieved me and my wife."
The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is sold here by Frank J. John Pipers Pharmacy and other leading druggists.

The Goodrich More Mileage Message

Goodrich is making the burliest, sturdiest, most lasting tires the rubber industry has ever seen; and Goodrich knows it.

In every test of road-toughness to which tires can be put, Goodrich Tires have unfolded an endurance, an ability to take punishment, which has run the phenomenal mileage.

Confident in this knowledge and belief, Goodrich desires that all tire users share in the confidence of Goodrich, and the big mileage Goodrich Tires assure.

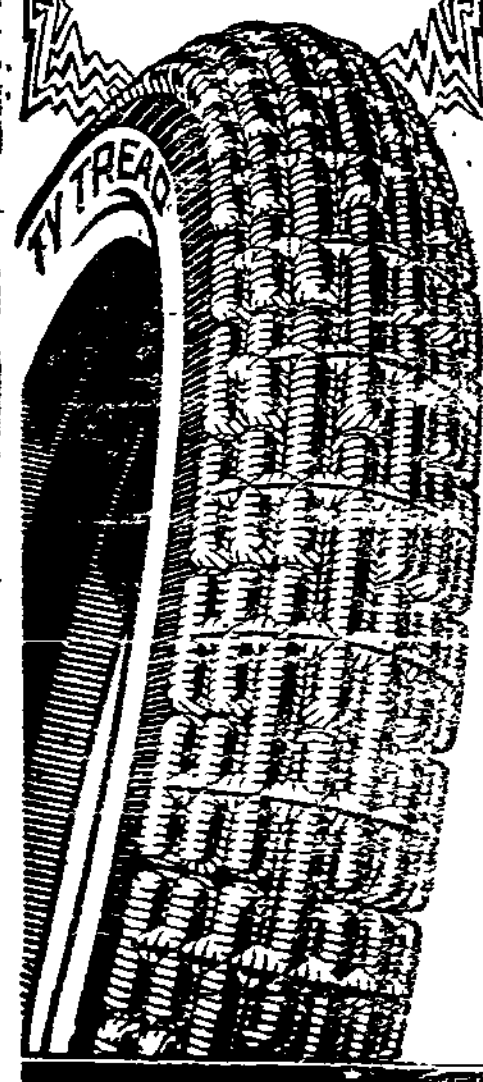

Therefore, Goodrich announces to present and future owners of its pneumatic tires—an adjustment basis of 6,000 miles for SAFETY TREADS, and 8,000 miles for SILVERTOWN CORDS, instead of the 3,500 and 5,000 miles respectively, heretofore in force.

Remember that a Goodrich adjustment is a fair one. Goodrich knows the mileage is in its tires, and more; and to make you realize you lose money in being without Goodrich Tires, the new Goodrich adjustment is proclaimed broadcast.

Woman Threatens Suit Against Druggist Because He Sold Her Substitute For Nuxated Iron Case Is Brought To Attention of Physicians Who Warn Public

Say That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparation Cannot Possibly Give The Same Strength Power and Endurance

As Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron.

With the threat to sue her druggist because he sold her a substitute for genuine Nuxated Iron, the tonic strength and blood-builder, one woman has set in motion a wave of indignation over the country against a practice which offers such countless dangers to the health and welfare of the public. This woman claims that instead of obtaining increased strength and improved health as she had with the true Nuxated Iron, she was seriously upset and in fact became ill as a result of using the substitute. Such instances as these have led physicians mentioned below to emphasize that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting substitutes for Nuxated Iron. Those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder should go to their family doctors and obtain a prescription calling for genuine Nuxated Iron—and present this to their druggist so that there may be no question about obtaining the proper article. But if they do not wish to go to the trouble of getting a prescription for Nuxated Iron then they should be sure to look on the label and see that the words NUXATED IRON are printed thereon.

There are thousands of people taking iron who do not distinguish between organic iron and metallic iron and such persons often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained.

Manufacturers' Note: The widespread publication of the above information has been suggested by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Belmont Hospital (Outdoor Department) New York and the Westchester County Hospital, Dr. Ferdinand King, New York physician and Medical Author, Dr. George H. Baker, formerly physician and surgeon of Mount Sinai Hospital of New York. Dr. H. B. Hall, former physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner, and others express the public may be informed on this subject and prevent from the use of imitation iron under the disguise of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the cheap iron substitutes, it does not irritate the bowels, make them slack, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturer guarantees satisfaction or a full refund of money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

Sold by Piper Bros Drug Store and all other druggists.

"DOUGHBOYS" COMPEL RESPECT FROM GERMANS

Corporal James J. Hersche, of the Headquarters Company of the 58th Infantry, Fourth Division, A. E. F., A. P. O. 746, Germany, writes the Mail as follows:

Coblenz, Ger., May 30, 1919—Editor Mail—I received several of your papers lately and was very glad to hear some home news. I have read where several boys have written you about France and their experiences so I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know how our Army of Occupation is getting along.

Coblenz, which is the largest and most important city in our occupied territory, is a very nice place, especially for scenery and old history. There is only one thing wrong with the people of this city, and that is they don't seem to know who won the war.

Whether it is ignorance or just Dutch stubbornness we don't know, but when our flag passes by in a parade they do not seem as though they are obliged to pay any respect to it, therefore the consequences are, their hats are knocked to the street.

Today, (Decoration Day) we had a parade and decorated all our "Buddies" graves. If there were not fifty hats knocked off today there was not one.

When we first occupied this city we acted as much like gentlemen as could be expected, and were soon liked by the people. But as the months passed by they saw how "soft" we were, not like the sort of soldiers whom they had dealt with before. They soon took the advantage and slowly became independent, and now that is why there are so many hats lying on "Lhor" and "Schloss" strasse today.

I am sure of one thing, and that is, before the 58th Infantry leaves this city they will have taught at least one lesson to the Germans, "Take off your hat, the colors are passing by."

I wrote you last winter who were up here, but now I am very glad to inform you that I am the only one left up here. James Reardon, Wass Yaros and "Johnny" Wolfe, all of whom are members of the 5th Pioneer Infantry left here last week for home.

After getting off the boat which takes a daily excursion up the Rhine last Saturday I ran right into old Archie Simms also of Charleroi. I would like to inform all of his friends that he is the same old Archie and looks as good as ever.

I don't know when I will be home and when peace will be signed, but there's one thing I do know, and that is, we are all set to invade Germany or greet old "Liberty," and "Rarin' to go."

I've been over here for over a year, have been over the top several times, saw many a shell torn town many nice cities, so why not add Berlin and a few more to it before we get home, because when I pass that Statue of Liberty she'll never see my face again unless she "about faces."

MAKING GOOD PROGRESS ON ROAD IMPROVEMENT

The contractor at work on the repair of the highway between Monongahela and Donora is making very satisfactory progress. The bricks are being removed from the road, and the steam shovel is grading for the additional width to be added. This important connecting link, sand and gravel are being received by river, thus allowing the delivery of larger quantities at onetime, thus preventing any hold-up because of lack of material.

MAN'S EVER-FAITHFUL FRIEND

Evangeline Booth Eulogizes the Services Which the Horse Has at All Times Rendered.

Evangeline Booth, the gifted commander of the Salvation army, in Rider and Driver, pays a beautiful tribute to the horse. The horseless age which was predicted when the motor came, she says, has not arrived, and never will. She continues:

"From the very beginning of all things, through the march of the centuries in every sphere of life, the horse has occupied a significant place. In sport, in art, in literature, in war, in peace, in commerce, in romance, in tragedy, in drudgery, in love, in religion, in life and in death, this reliable, courageous, ever-ready-for-command servant of man has proved himself a most potent factor. His fleet hoofs have dashed light from the pebbled path of every poet; his arched neck and tossing mane have taxed the skill of the ablest sculptor's chisel; his attractive figure has made realistic the story of every class of literature—historic, fiction, fact and biblical; the delight of childhood, the willing slave of man, the sure trust of old age, this faithful ally through all time harrowed the fields and hauled the loads and penetrated the wilderness and waded the rivers and with blood-stained flanks has carried the warriors in battle, and tossing snowy mane has borne the victor home through triumphal arch and a thousand times ten thousand when worn by toils and lack of food to a mere skeleton, has pressed on with his task with a patience, perseverance and a sweetness of temper that one could almost call divine."

HAS SQUIRREL WELL TAMED

Intelligent Little Animal Beguiles Tedium of Voyage for Naval Officer on Active Duty.

There is a certain very companionable little squirrel which belongs to an officer on a warship, somewhere in South African waters. She is a great talker in her way—but she is always very careful not to talk when any one else is talking. Her master will call her down from her bedroom, and she appears with cheery little squeaks and gurgles. Then she waits.

"Will you have toast this morning or milk?" is the question with which he greets her, and her answer is a decided chatter for a moment. When she stops, he goes on with the conversation, and she listens to him, with her little eyes full of interest, for what he is telling her. Then comes her turn, and she talks a bit. She is a very playful little squirrel, and she has never been known to lose her temper with her master, though sometimes in a romp, when she gets rather hurried, she bites a bit too hard. And if her master gently raps her, she pretends to feel grieved about it, goes into a corner and sulks and all that he can do is to leave her alone until she wants to play again.—Montreal Herald.

STEADY, NOT ERRATIC.

It is a good thing to have work done well and quickly by one person in an organization. But it is a far better thing to have that whole organization work together effectively, each one doing a part carefully and conscientiously, than to have an expert here and there setting the pace.

It is safe to say that any business that succeeds does so because the head of that business never forgets that he is working with human beings and not with machines. He does not expect them to do the impossible any more than he expects impossibilities of himself, but he does require of himself a certain amount of concentrated effort done at the right time every day, and he does require from all his office force the same effort and concentration.

The best way to conserve energy is not by speeding up every once in a while, but by keeping engines fired at all time, ready to do the work at the right time and in the right place.—New York Evening Telegram.

Two Queer Strikes.

A one-man strike occurred in an Australian city. A prisoner in the town jail, a tailor by trade, refused to work in the tailor's shop on the plea that it would be contrary to his principles as a trade unionist. "Unfair competition with his brother unionists outside," as he put it. He sent a letter to the tailors' union, but as they took no notice he was condemned to three days' solitary confinement, during which he "continued the strike."

There was a strike of paupers once in a country poorhouse. They struck for new potatoes! They expected greens for dinner and, as there were none, they refused to eat old spuds! They even declined to enter the dining room. The guardians prescribed a bread and water diet, with the result that at the end of 24 hours the inmates were ready for potatoes—new or old.

Macaroni Reigns Even in China.
The succulent Italian paste spreads far and wide. We learn from the United States commerce reports: The manufacture of vermicelli and macaroni in China is an enormous industry and is carried on almost entirely by hand. Wheat, beans and rice are the principal flour used. At Chefoo the industry assumes greater proportions than anywhere else in China, and there the vermicelli is principally a green bean product. Vermicelli is eaten throughout all sections of the country. China exports annually about 15,000 tons of vermicelli of all sorts.

TWO SUITS ON THE SAME EVIDENCE

The suit of Luther H. Frye against the Taxi Transportation Company of Charleroi and the suit of the Taxi Transportation Company against Luther H. Frye, both actions being based on the same facts were taken up on Tuesday before Judge Melville in the county courts. Frye claims damages from the Taxi company as a result of a collision on McKean avenue near the Maple creek bridge on the night of December 21, 1918. The driver of the taxi company was Richard Hobbs and is charged with negligence. Frye suffered personal injuries as the result of the accident.

The Taxi company in its claim charges Mr. Frye with dangerous and reckless driving. They aver that he was "totally unfit and notoriously reckless and was under the influence of liquor; that he was racing and joy-riding upon the public street, cutting in front of the taxi bus and other vehicles and also running at a high rate of speed."

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Laird and son Stanley are leaving for Doylstown, Ohio where they will spend the summer camping.

TARIFFS A LEGISLATIVE PROBLEM

A member of the U. S. Tariff Commission advocates a law which will authorize the President to levy by proclamation additional duties on goods which are being speculatively dumped into the United States, or to prohibit their importation in case he has reason to believe that the result will be to injure, destroy or prevent the establishment of an American industry.

There you have one more illustration of the grasping ambition of bureaucracy. More power, is the endless desire, "Leave it to me," is bureaucracy's motto. Personal government, is the ideal. Government by law is not even a last resort.

Just think of the possibilities of a broad creation of discretion such as that proposed. Certain commodities are shipped in large quantities into this country. Persons interested as manufacturers of the same commodities ask for a proclamation against the importations. The importers oppose the issuance of a law. Speculators lay in a supply of the goods imported at low prices and suddenly the country is taken by surprise by issuance of a prohibition order that shuts out further importations, increases the value of goods already brought in, makes fortunes for those who bought up the supply and starts rumors as to some one having an advance tip as to the best time to buy, in what quantities, what commodities and at what prices.

People who remember the rumors of fortunes made in the stock market a few years back by men who got an early tip on a Presidential note, will see the danger of repetition of incidents that tend to shake confidence in government. Creating opportunities for that sort of thing is hardly the part of wisdom.

The proper policy for America is to regard importations of articles that can be produced here as "unfair" to American producers. We should prevent such unfair competition by imposing an import duty at least equal to the difference in cost of production here and in the country of lowest cost of production provided the latter country sells to us a quantity sufficient to be a menace to our home industry. But the duty of duty, the time and manner of its establishment, should be fixed by law, so that every person interested may have equal knowledge of the proposed action and the time when it is to become effective. The rights of importers and producers should be fixed by law and not be subject to the varying discretion of a President, especially one who believes in the removal of all economic barriers.

This discussion has dealt with the subject wholly from the standpoint of governmental policy. As a matter of constitutional law it is doubtful whether any pretext could be devised that would sustain even technically a delegation of power to the President to fix import duties.

FOR GOOD ROADS

The people of Washington county, in a most decisive manner, have approved the million-dollar bond issue and have spoken in favor of good roads. The issue was plain and the decision clear-cut. There can be no doubt as to where the people of the county stand on the proposition and it is now the duty of the proper officers of the county to carry out the mandate, and the commission they have received direct from the hands of the voters. There is no room for quibbling or splitting hairs—the thing to do now is to issue the bonds in such sums as may be necessary in order to carry out the various programs of road building the State and the county have in view. We are going to get up out of the mud and we are going to stay out. The people want good roads and they have provided the means to procure them. Now let the officials get busy and see to it that the necessary details are taken care of and that work begins at the earliest possible moment.

Builds Motor Cars and Liberty Motors Before Your Eyes

Everybody today either owns a motor car or expects to own one some day. Almost everybody can "speak the language." But the knowledge of the general public with reference to motor cars is largely confined to what the motor car will do in business or family service.

This is another side to the motor car that is just as wonderful—indeed even more wonderful to many people—and that is the manner in which it is built up from ores and alloys, cloth and rubber, wood and leather, into an energetic, untiring, faithful servant with more than human endurance, and almost living in its response to the wishes of its driver.

A series of five educational features, recently adopted by the United States Government in its educational work, starts this week at the Majestic Theatre, showing how motor cars are built by one of the largest builders of motor cars. Beginning with the raw materials, the progress of the different parts is shown through the foundry, the drop forge, hammers, the various heat-treating, machining and grinding departments until finally the machine runs off under its own power, complete to the last detail.

Nothing is slighted to make this series complete, even to laying bare the mystic operations of the analytical chemists, the metallurgists and the intricate testing apparatus in the physical and electrical laboratories.

One of the later features will show how Liberty motors were built for Uncle Sam's airplanes during the great war.

These pictures were taken in the Buick Factory. The first picture will be shown at the Majestic Theatre, June 21, 1919. 13-41

HARNESS RACING AT MONONGAHELA

There promises to be a revival of harness racing at the Monongahela track this summer, and some good speed events will be booked for that well known speedway. Monongahela has been admitted to what is known as the Keystone Short Ship Circuit, and dates for the races will be announced later. Already a number of horses are in the stables at the track preparing for the events which promise to be very interesting. The track is one of the best half-mile stretches in the country, and with attractive purses the races should draw many lovers of light harness races to witness the events. Andrew McAllister, the well known trainer, has a number of horses under his care, while C. W. McFeely and Dr. Cole also have a number of entries that stand well to take down the high purse.

BOY WILL RECOVER FROM LIGHTNING SHOCK

Elbert Squires, son of Lloyd Squires of Bentleyville, who was severely shocked by lightning while standing in front of his home last week, was later taken to a Pittsburgh hospital, where it was stated he would completely recover from a shock within a short time. The boy was unconscious when the hospital was reached, and remained so until the following morning.

Confucius Cemetery.
The grave of Confucius, with those of his descendants of 74 generations, which is now within easy reach of the Tientsin-Pukow railway, is one of the most picturesque spots in China. The family cemetery is surrounded by a wall eight to ten miles in circumference. The interior is one vast grove, trees having been planted there since the burial of Confucius 25 centuries ago. Within a mile from the entrance to the Confucian cemetery is the Confucian temple, a set of beautiful Chinese temple buildings, with yellow glazed tiled roofs amidst a grove of ancient cedars. Here is also the ancestral hall of the descendants of Confucius. In close proximity to the Confucian temple is the home of the only surviving descendant of Confucius.

Monor Noted Missionary.
Among the relics preserved on the island of Tahiti is the burial place of Rev. Henry Nott, one of the first and considered the greatest of the missionaries who went to the South Seas in the early days. The mission sent out from England to Tahiti in 1796, was the first undertaken by the London Missionary society after its formation. Henry Nott was of this company who landed from the ship Duff, commanded by Capt. James Wilson, at Matavai Bay, Tahiti, in 1797. From that time until his death in 1844, he labored without ceasing in the island. It was he who first translated the Scriptures, directly from the original Hebrew and Greek texts, into the Tahitian language.

Raposo Kamakura.
Egypt built her monuments in stone. Japan built most of hers of wood. The Egyptian pyramids were thousands of years old when Kamakura was built. Today the pyramids seem no older, but Kamakura's greatness is only a memory. A few temples built from the wreck after fire and tidal waves had destroyed the city, are all that have remained, and they are fragile temples of wood. Yet for all their weather-beaten, neglected look, the temples of Kamakura are well worth visiting. Avenues of cedars, wooden gates and bridges over ponds hidden under beds of lotus blossoms lead to the temple doors. Inside are images of various gods some several centuries old.

Rise Step by Step.
It's the mastery of every step in the upward way that spells greatness and leads to power. It's common enough to find young fellows dreaming of the day when they will sit in the office chair and direct great enterprises. The dream of greatness is all right, but it must be backed up with considerable experience and knowledge before you can draw checks on it. Dream of big things all you can when you have the pep to push them to realization. The best way is to prove each dream as you have it. The only sure way is to rise by building firmly each step of foundation as you go. The big things then come naturally and you are ready to meet them.

Ventriloquism.
Ventriloquism is the art of producing the voice in such fashion that the sound appears to proceed from a source other than the speaker's mouth. The illusion is heightened by immobility of the visible muscles concerned in speech, as well as by gestures and glances which suggest to the onlooker a false source of the sound. The art of ventriloquism is one which can be acquired. It requires, however, so much constant practice that few care to give up their time to it. It also requires personal tuition in order to acquire any expert knowledge of the art.

PICKPOCKETS ARE ARRESTED ON CAR

Inspector John J. Henrion was instrumental in having two pickpockets, who were working the street cars arrested Saturday afternoon. He was on a street car coming toward Charleroi, and when near Lock Four noticed two men acting suspiciously. Keeping his eye on them he noticed one of the men pick the pocket of a miner and then transfer the money to his pal, who was near by. Henrion then went into the car and a coasted one of the men, charging him with stealing the money. In the argument which followed the pickpocket dropped the money on the floor and the miner secured his money. When the car arrived at the barn, the two men were detained by Superintendent Yost and Inspector Henrion and the police notified. Chief Albright and Officer Murphy responded at once and the two men were placed in the local lockup, where they remained over Sunday. This morning they were given a hearing before the Burgess, who fined each of them $50.

STATE CAN TAKE ITS OWN ROAD CONTRATS

Governor Sproull on Saturday last signed the Eyre bill which changes the policy of the state in force since the creation of the highway department, by enabling the state to contract for the construction of its own highways, in case the bids received for any piece of work are considered excessive. In order to place the state in the field as a real competitor in the matter of road building, the commonwealth is authorized by the Eyre bill to acquire stone quarries, to erect buildings and to assemble a road building plant. Under the present law the state can rebuild highways but must have all new building done by contract with private contractors.

A FIGHT AGAINST TERRIFIC ODDS

The exponents of the strenuous life and admirers of the man who succeeds against almost overwhelming odds will appreciate the screen version of Larry Evans' red-blooded and fighting story "Once to Every Man" which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre for two days, Wednesday and Thursday. This production vividly portrays the story of the almost brutal opposition of the residents of a small town to a boy whose parents established a bad reputation for drinking. The lad struggles to fight off the inherited craving and all but falls a victim to the taint. Chief among his tormentors is a big burly brute of a lumber jack who, without provocation, unmercifully beats the boy. Even the lad's sweetheart loses faith in him and he sojourns to the big city there to fight his battles alone and struggles through many vicissitudes. He finally overcomes tremendous opposition and mounts the ladder of success.

DR CRAMBLETT OF BETHANY COLLEGE IS DEAD

Dr. Thomas E. Cramblett, president of Bethany College, died at a Wheeling hospital, early Sunday morning, as a result of blood poison. He had been at the head of this institution since 1901 and had been very successful in building up the institution. He was personally known to many people in Charleroi who will regret to learn of his death.

ROAD PROGRAM DEPENDS ON FAVORABLE VOTE FOR BONDS

much in the way of road building the past ten years, among other things that the old-time system will not answer modern day requirements. If the voters approve the bond issue the state will prepare the plans and specifications for those roads which the county will build in conjunction with the commonwealth's plan, but the state will forever after maintain these roads. Good and permanent roads cost money—more money today than ever before, but it is not proposed there shall be extravagance or graft in the expenditure of this money. What the people want is good roads, and they can be secured if we wish to act in harmony with the state, otherwise but two small stretches of roadway will be constructed from the fifty million dollar fund. By taking advantage of the state's generous plan we will not only get what roads the county money will provide, but the state will match us dollar for dollar, and in addition build the two stretches of highway as originally intended in its primary system.

It means, if the bond issue is approved, that Washington county will have within the next four years about 125 miles of the finest improved roads in the county; moreover, an approval of the bond issue will not only put Washington county on the good roads map, but it is likely to influence the state in locating a proposed highway to run around Pittsburgh, through the northern part of Washington county.

Much depends in the way of road improvement depends on the attitude which we shall assume on Tuesday. If we approve Washington county will have one of the greatest road building programs in its history; over one and one-half million dollars will be spent in the county in wages alone during the construction period, a feature in itself that should make us pause and consider, the great stimulus to business this would be. Moreover it will make Washington county one of the best-known counties in the state, with tourists traveling over its improved roads almost every day in the year.

To turn down the bond issue is to stand in our own light; to put a brake on the wheels of progress, to put our county back many years in road building and to show our lack of faith in the honesty and integrity of the state administration, and fail to appreciate the services of those who have worked so earnestly and unselfishly for the improvement of our highway system.

Vote for progress and vote for the bond issue.

SACRED FLOWER A COMMON PEST

Fear instead of reverence is aroused against a flower known as "The Star of Bethlehem," which is beginning to show itself in certain farming sections of Allegheny county. It is appearing in such numbers as to interfere with the growth of farm products and every farmer will be notified to watch out for the bright bloom in the form of a real star. So destructive will be the "Star of Bethlehem" if it gets headway that the United States Department of Plant Industry sent one of its inspectors to Pittsburgh this week to visit the farm of Dr. George W. Ely, of near Bridgeville, where the flower first appeared in Allegheny county. Dr. Ely's men plowed the ground to turn the flower under, when it was discovered that the plant had roots as big as onions. All farmers will be told to eradicate the pest.

Where History Is Romantic.

Nowhere is history so romantic as in the Caucasus region, says a historian. Alexander the Great was its first authentically recorded conqueror. The legions of Pompey assailed it, trying vigorously to force their way through the Dariel pass. The Turks by stratagem and by surprise attacks frequently got through in later days. The first sustained freedom which the mountaineers received was when the crusaders so decimated the tribes of Islam that they could be driven out by the Georgians.

Much Coal Is Wasted.

Of the world's coal mined 1,235,000,000 tons are wasted in heat radiation and other losses, according to L. C. Harvey, an expert on fuel economy. In 1910 the amount of coal mined in the world was about 1,300,000,000 tons, and, according to Mr. Harvey, it was improbable that anything like 5 per cent was ever turned into actual useful work.

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOL XX—NO 12

CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, WEDNESDAY JUNE 13, 1919

TWO CENTS

MILLION DOLLAR BOND ISSUE IS APPROVED BY THE COUNTY

Vote Is At Least 2 to 1 In Favor Of The Propo-

SOME SURPRISES IN RESULT

The voters of Washington county on Tuesday approved the Million-dollar bond issue, and an intensive campaign for good roads will now be put under way. While the vote throughout the county was light, yet those who took the trouble to vote approved the proposition by a vote of at least two to one. Returns from 99 out of 148 precincts available up to this morning showed a vote of 5,409 in favor of the issue and 2,586 against.

In Charleroi the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the proposition, the following table showing the total as well as the vote for and against:

	vote	yes	no
First precinct.....	189	165	23
Second precinct.....	126	108	18
Third precinct.....	91	65	26
Fourth precinct.....	119	97	22
Fifth precinct.....	82	52	30
Sixth precinct.....	68	29	39

Total 675 516 158
North Charleroi voted in favor of the bonds by 65 to 36; Speers borough 35 to 7; California 198 to 40, and East Bethlehem 73 to 27.

Donora was strong for the issue, voting 513 to 88 in its favor, while Allen township gave 86 in favor to 21 against. Roscoe, the former home town to Controller T. J. Underwood who showed such intense enmity toward the bond issue, voted 115 in favor and only 3 against. The circulation of the attack made by Underwood on the Speers-Coal Centre road, was an important factor in bringing out such a large favorable vote. In fact all through the up-river district the vote for the issue was strongly in its favor.

The surprise of the contest however was the fact that Monongahela voted against the issue. The vote there was 215 in favor and 217 against. New Eagle also voted against it, the figures being 20 in favor and 30 against.

However, the county good roads association and the automobile owners of the county are well satisfied with the day's work, as it means that the state and county will now combine in a four-year campaign for improved highways, and when it is completed Washington county will take its place on the map as one of the finest systems of roads in the country.

CARTER-MANON NUPTIALS AN EVENT OF TUESDAY

Tuesday evening at the home of her father, Dr. L. Nickeson, on Meadow avenue, occurred the marriage of his daughter Viola Nickeson Carter, to Dr. J. W. Manon of Charleroi. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John R. Burson, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in a wedding gown trimmed with lace and carried a shower bouquet of roses. At the conclusion of the ceremony a luncheon was served and covers laid for eighteen. Dr. Manon has been a practicing dentist in this community for the past twenty-one years and is a well-known citizen. Dr. Manon will make their future home in Charleroi.

A FAREWELL TO

REV. T. D. REES

Rev. John R. Burson, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, was host to his brother ministers Tuesday afternoon, in the parlors of the church. The meeting was in honor of the Rev. T. D. Rees, who has resigned his work here as pastor of the First Baptist church and will soon leave for Beaver Falls to accept the pastorate of the First Baptist church of that city. The ministers were in a reminiscent mood and the social hour during the refreshments were much enjoyed. A short program of music and devotional hour introduced the more serious side of the meeting, when the Rev. Mr. Rees spoke of the sadness of parting with such genial co-laborers. Many felicitations of good will were expressed and the meeting closed with "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

Grier of Canonsburg recently returned from six months service in France will address the convention on "An hour on the Firm Line." The final address of the convention will be by Rev. Dr. W. C. Johnston, just returned from Africa, where he has been engaged in missionary work for 25 years, his address being "God's Marvelous Doings in Africa." Dr. Johnston served in France on his way home as his son was leaving for America.

IN HONOR OF THE RETURNED SOLDIERS

On a call issued by the executive committee, which had been previously appointed by the Board of Trade a meeting of the general committee which will have in charge arrangements for a celebration in honor of returned soldiers, met at the Hotel Wilbur Tuesday evening.

A movement for a celebration in honor of returned soldiers has been under way for some time and it finally resulted in the appointment of Harry W. Scott, of North Charleroi, W. S. James, Capt. J. K. Hein, Mr. Murphy and H. L. Swickey as members of the executive committee.

It was at the instance of this committee that the meeting was held last evening and a preliminary survey made of the ground which it expects to cover in the proposed celebration. Sub-committees are now in process of formation and when these are completed the members will be announced. The work of each committee will be specifically outlined, so that every detail in connection with this home celebration can go forward without interruption.

The date selected for the celebration is Thursday, August 2, at which time all local plants and stores will be expected to close for the day, in order to allow every citizen of the town to give undivided attention to the demonstration. Announcement will be made from time to time as details are completed, that the people of the community may be fully advised and govern themselves accordingly.

Miss Claire Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Gobillot and children left Tuesday evening for New York from which place they expect to sail for France on Saturday June 21st.

WAGE DEMANDS ARE GRANTED

At a meeting of the Building Employers Association with members of the Trades Council in Charleroi this morning, the wages difference were adjusted. The Employers' Association agrees to pay the wages asked by the carpenters, painters and lathers, and this afternoon a meeting was held with the tinner, at which time the scale, it was expected would be signed with them.

The new scale calls for $7.00 per day for carpenters, $7.00 per day for painters and $4.50 per thousand or $7.00 a day for lathers.

The local association was influenced by the fact that the building association in Pittsburgh had granted the carpenters 90 cents an hour and the Uniontown builders 87 1/2 cents an hour, which left the employers in the valley nothing to do but accept the demands and sign up the new scale.

The territory affected extends from Monongahela to Brownsville inclusive.

BOND ISSUE CARRIES BY 3210 MAJORITY

At one o'clock this afternoon 140 precincts in the county out of 148 had reported at the county commissioners' office, which showed a vote on the million-dollar bond issue as follows: In favor 6,402 against, 3,192, or more than two to one in favor of the proposition. The remaining precincts will not change the above figures very materially.

MAY FILE PROTEST AGAINST BRIDGE FLOOR

Remonstrances against the nuisance being maintained as a floor on the Donora-Webster bridge will likely go up soon to the commissioners of Westmoreland and Washington counties. While it may be pointed out as economy to wait for lower prices to construct a new floor the thoughtful citizens and good business men on the contrary see these two counties "losing on the pig and gaining on the eom."

Besides the great discomfort and inconveniences to the traveling public, which is considerable at that point, there is much damage being wrought not only to vehicles crossing but also to the bridge itself. Constant expense is being borne by these counties for repairmen and prices of lumber to fill up the holes in the floor. Then it is little better to travel over t han the old-time corduroy road.

Then it is said that the bridge structure and foundations are being damaged by the shaking and jarring from heavy trucks passing constantly to and fro. It is contended that a wood block floor or a concrete drive way would materially assist in keeping the bridge in better shape.

Commissioner John O. Watson has been a consistent advocate of replacing the present floor with wood blocks, as a measure of economy, which would do away with a great deal of expense and which would give the public a great deal more satisfaction.

TRUCK WRECKED BY FORD RACER

A Ford truck owned by P. Calistri the local baker, and driven by his son Leo, was wrecked on the Speers brick road, near West Belle Vernon, about 9 o'clock this morning. Young Calistri, who was accompanied by Thomas Lancaster, was delivering 38 gallons of ice cream to parties in Speers and was driving along the road on the proper side of the highway, when a Ford racer said to have been driven by George Mikas, of McKean avenue, came up behind him. It struck the truck in such a way and with such force as to wreck the machine, three wheels being broken and the top badly damaged. Both Calistri and Lancaster were thrown out of the truck, but fortunately escaped with very slight injuries. Mikas made no explanation as to why he was going at such speed and why he could not control his car sufficiently to prevent the accident.

About the only thing a person can save these days is daylight—and some people, it seems, do not want to do that.

STANDARD SPORT MODEL

A Powerful Car

WHEN you see the new Standard "8" Sport Model with its long, narrow body, its low center of gravity, its long, straight hood which conceals its eight-cylinder, 83 horse-power motor, you get an advance impression of the thrill that awaits you when you let in the clutch for the first time.

83 horse-power with 8-cylinder flexibility, 127-inch wheel base and light weight give to the motorist an idea of the possibilities of this car.

A demonstration will show even greater performance than your expectations.

When you drive in traffic, never shifting a gear or never slipping the clutch, you will realize its unusual flexibility.

It is only when you try the hardest hills on high without straining the motor in the slightest degree that you can believe its wonderful hill-climbing ability.

The name "Sport Car" describes this new Standard "8". It is a sport car from its trim, supple lines to its snappy, eager performance.

The Standard "8" is built by the sixth largest industrial institution in the world—The Standard Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh—makers of world famous railroad rolling stock.
